Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party,
But established for the benefit of all.

TUESDAY, DEC. 30, 1890.

New Year's will be a cold day for ice consumers.

There is a deadlock in the Idaho Legislature on the U. S. Senatorial question, to which the Republicans seem to have lost the combination.

To-morrow will be Queen Kapiolani's fifty-fifth birthday. Her Majesty is exceedingly popular with foreigners as well as her own people. Long life and continued happiness to the Queen!

An English editor declares that more than a hundred ambitious authors have already written lives of Gladstone and are quietly waiting for the "Grand Old Man" to die so they can spring their work upon the weary world.

It is understood that if food for the seals run short during the negotiations over the seal fisheries, Secretary Blaine has made up his mind to feed the seals upon the Democratic majority and prolong the negotiation until after the next Presidential election.

THAT CENSUS.

EDITOR BULLETIN:

The National Reform party has made a sad mistake in appointing that political failure of the old Reform party, Dr. Rodgers, to the responsible position of manager and director of the census of 1890.

As soon as the learned doctor's plans for taking the census, presumably supplemented by the congregated ability of the Board of Education, were fairly before the public (if they can be said to have ever been before the public) every practical man in the community saw the census would be another dismal failure, such as those following the learned doctor's political work have always been. The great register, costly failure though it was, is only a patching to the coming census botch, which promises to be even worse than Mr. Porter's late job in the United States.

It has taken only a little private enquiry to learn that very few persons have filled out the blanks properly, for the reason that such blanks are not self-explanatory; and, except the general explanation given by the BULLETIN as an item of news, the public has been left without any other instruction in the matter.

I am not speaking at haphazard, but giving the practical result of personal enquiry. The blanks containing no instructions as to what names were to be filled into them, I find that in three cases out of four all members of the family were entered, whether at Honolulu at the time or on other islands or even in other countries. If it turns out that our most intelligent foreigners have failed to understand and properly fill out their blanks, what is to be expected of the average native, Portuguese and Chinese residing in the Kingdom?

It is safe to conclude that if all the blanks distributed (which as far as I can learn have been left without personal instructions from those delivering them) have been filled out according to the clear demands of said blanks, which certainly conflict with the instructions published in the BULLETIN, the census returns will be largely in excess of the actual number of people, and will be entirely misleading as statistical tables. The most astonishing thing about the whole matter is that the present Cabinet should appoint an incompetent official and hanger-on of the Reform party to carry out this important work.

One of the problems which the learned doctor asks the average taxpayer to solve is, what the assessed value of his real estate for 1890 is. Now, while most will remember the amount of taxes paid, but few will remember, if they ever knew, what their property was assessed at, unless they are wealthy men, who always post themselves so as to fight for reductions. The learned doctor has in nine cases out of ten, therefore, asked the average taxpayer as to what percent his taxes are of an unknown amount. It is not a hard problem if the rate is remembered, but it is safe to say not one person in ten will be able to give the correct return without looking up the records.

There are many other points in this admirable bungling worthy of notice which space will not permit. Just here light is wanted, as well as competent officials and genuine reform.

ONE WHO HAS WRESTLED.

WHY THEY KICK.

EDITOR BULLETIN:

A misty letter appeared in the columns of this morning's P. C. A. Someone has evidently missed his calling. A reward should be offered to any faithful member of the past administration who has not made his quack when he got the sack and realized that he did not happen to be in accord. Too ready to accede to anything but don't touch my GOVERNMENT PAP.
